Hotsetan, Azkuna Zentroa's experimental music and sound art programme continues on 17 March with a series of local artists who are active in experimental sound including Eraeran, Jana Jan, EC (Estanis Comella), Killerkume.

Eraeran (Miguel A. Garcia) is back with a series of electro-acoustic pieces in which he investigates collective sound creation, working with scores in various stages of freedom ranging from pure improvisation to performance.

Itziar Markiegi a.k.a. Jana Jan is a transdisciplinary artist, illustrator, noise maker and performer who experiments and creates graphic and sound collaborations and improvisations with different artists. She explores the creation and manipulation of sound, accumulation and feedback through improvisation and the creative use of error, DIY feelings and the body as an active instrument.

The work of the artist EC \(Estanis Comella\) is based on the organisation and composition of elements in time and space, creating fragmented and experimental frameworks that form specific patterns, breaking away from categorisations and genres and bringing it all together in a single unit.

Killerkume, formed in 2012 in Bilbao by Mikel Vega and Joxean Rivas, has been active on the Basque Country's independent circuit for quite a few years, forming part of bands such as Loan, Mirage or Ximel. They have already toured Europe several times and released two studio albums ('Trautzer Blaster' in 2013 and 'Industrial Sunbath' in 2016), as well as a 'White Noise Session' published in 2018 on the Gaffer and Sudden labels. This year they will release a double LP recorded with Karlos Osinaga.
